

Donor Management Database Volunteer Project – 2009-10

Zara Lafferty from Dublin joined Comber as a volunteer in September 2009 to help implement a new donor management system, using her experience as a supervisor in the finance sector.

She worked on a part-time basis from home to organise and transfer data into a new system called SalesForce, which is specifically designed to help charities manage communications with their supporters.

The project has taken five months to complete and the new system is now fully operational.
